Huliot is committed to the consistent quality of the products it supplies, to the complete satisfaction of its customers. We are committed to focus on our customers, to ensure their demands are met, with the aim of enhancing their customer experience. We are diligent in all areas of our activity, to ensure the prevention of illness or physical injury, to eliminate or minimize all safety and environmental threats to our workers, contracted suppliers, customers, and all other stakeholders.

We are committed, in accordance with our 'Corporate Vision', strategic plan to continue to lead and excel in the production of quality products and to act protect the environment and to increase environmental awareness based on 3R's method (Reduce, Reuse & Recycle).

Our management team aspires to continual improvement in QEHS, and environmental protection, through a unified QEHS system based on the following principles:

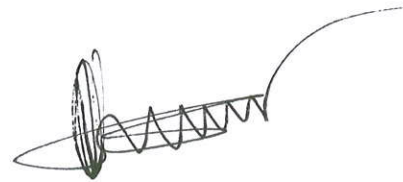

- Adoption and implementation of the principles of QEHS Management as per latest edition of ISO 9001, ISO 14001 & BS ISO 45001.
- Development and encouragement of the professional skills and behaviour that ensure product quality, workplace health and safety, environmental protection and prevention of pollution, through implementation of technological innovation, education, employee training and QEHS management systems.
- Producing and marketing of environmentally friendly products, while leading the building and infrastructure sectors in "Green technologies".
- In cooperation, consultation and participation with employees, management will actively involve the employees in all matters that are relating to maintain of QEHS and the requirement of any relevant legislation.

- Remove all risk factors and reduce risk to an acceptable risk level (according to the control hierarchy).
- Allocation of appropriate resources for the planning and implementation of measures to ensure the quality of our products, a safe, healthy and hygienic workplace and a minimized environmental impact.
- Commitment to minimize quality risk, safety risks, health hazards and environmental damage, through appropriate planning of processes and equipment, and implementation of preventive measures as required.
- Fostering and nurturing of contacts and activities with the community on issues of environmental protection.
- Commitment to meet all legal and other requirements, regarding quality, workplace health and safety and environmental protection.
- Commitment to cooperate with employees, contracted suppliers and other stakeholders to advance issues of quality, workplace health and safety and environmental protection.
- Cooperate fully with the relevant authorities in the fields of quality, workplace health and safety and environmental protection.
